

Contents

	Contributors	ix
	Foreword Robert K. Merton	xi
	Introduction	xv
Chapter 1	Sources of the New Institutionalism Victor Nee	1
PART I	INSTITUTIONS AND SOCIAL NORMS	17
Chapter 2	Embeddedness and Beyond: Institutions, Exchange, and Social Structure Victor Nee and Paul Ingram	19
Chapter 3	Of Coase and Cattle: Dispute Resolution Among Neighbors in Shasta County Robert C. Ellickson	46
Chapter 4	Cultural Beliefs and the Organization of Society: A Historical and Theoretical Reflection on Collectivist and Individualist Societies Avner Greif	77
Chapter 5	Conflict over Changing Social Norms: Bargaining, Ideology, and Enforcement Jack Knight and Jean Ensminger	105
Chapter 6	Embeddedness and Immigration: Notes on the Social Determinants of Economic Action Alejandro Portes and Julia Sensenbrenner	127
PART II	INSTITUTIONAL EMBEDDEDNESS IN CAPITALIST ECONOMIES	151
Chapter 7	The Organization of Economies Gary G. Hamilton and Robert Feenstra	153

Chapter 8	Institutional Embeddedness in Japanese Labor Markets Mary C. Brinton and Takehiko Kariya	181
Chapter 9	Winner-Take-All Markets and Wage Discrimination Robert H. Frank	208
Chapter 10	Institutions and the Labor Market Bruce Western	224
PART III	INSTITUTIONAL CHANGE AND ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE	245
Chapter 11	Economic Performance Through Time Dougllass C. North	247
Chapter 12	Changing the Rules: Interests, Organizations, and Institutional Change in the U.S. Hospitality Industry Paul Ingram	258
Chapter 13	The Importance of the Local: Rural Institutions and Economic Change in Preindustrial England Rosemary L. Hopcroft	277
Chapter 14	Outline of an Institutionalist Theory of Inequality: The Case of Socialist and Postcommunist Eastern Europe Iván Széleányi and Eric Kostello	305
	Index	327