

Contents

	Contributors	xi
	Foreword Robert M. Solow and Eric Wanner	xv
Chapter 1	Introduction and Overview Eileen Appelbaum, Gerhard Bosch, Jérôme Gauthié, Geoff Mason, Ken Mayhew, Wiemer Salverda, John Schmitt, and Niels Westergaard-Nielsen	1
PART I	LOW-WAGE WORK AND NATIONAL LABOR MARKET INSTITUTIONS	33
Chapter 2	Low Pay, Working Conditions, and Living Standards Geoff Mason and Wiemer Salverda	35
Chapter 3	Industrial Relations, Legal Regulations, and Wage Setting Gerhard Bosch, Ken Mayhew, and Jérôme Gauthié	91
Chapter 4	The Impact of Institutions on the Supply Side of the Low-Wage Labor Market Jérôme Gauthié, Niels Westergaard-Nielsen, and John Schmitt, with Ken Mayhew	147
PART II	INDUSTRY CASE STUDIES	183
Chapter 5	Institutions, Firms, and the Quality of Jobs in Low-Wage Labor Markets Eileen Appelbaum	185

Chapter 6	Retail Jobs in Comparative Perspective Françoise Carré, Chris Tilly, Maarten van Klaveren, and Dorothea Voss-Dahm	211
Chapter 7	Working at the Wage Floor: Hotel Room Attendants and Labor Market Institutions in Europe and the United States Achim Vanselow, Chris Warhurst, Annette Bernhardt, and Laura Dresser	269
Chapter 8	Cleaning and Nursing in Hospitals: Institutional Variety and the Reshaping of Low-Wage Jobs Philippe Méhaut, Peter Berg, Damian Grimshaw, and Karen Jaehrling, with Marc van der Meer and Jacob Eskildsen	319
Chapter 9	Tough Meat, Hard Candy: Implications for Low-Wage Work in the Food-Processing Industry Klaus G. Grunert, Susan James, and Philip Moss	367
Chapter 10	Restructuring Customer Service: Labor Market Institutions and Call Center Workers in Europe and the United States Caroline Lloyd, Claudia Weinkopf, and Rosemary Batt	421
	Index	467