Social Movements in the World-System:
The Politics of Crisis and Transformation

Jackie Smith & Dawn Wiest

Revised Manuscript-Submitted to ASA Rose Series in Sociology
May 16, 2011

Table of Contents

List of Tables and Figures

Introduction ................................................................. i

Chapter 1: Theorizing Social Movements and Global Change .................. 1

Chapter 2: Mapping the Terrain: Changing Patterns of Transnational Social Movement Organizing .................................................. XX

Chapter 3: Regionalisms and Counter-Hegemony in the World-System .......... XX

Chapter 4: Global Conferences and Movement Sectors .......................... XXX

Chapter 5: Of Boomerangs and Iron Cages: Institutional Logics and Paradoxes ...... XXX

Chapter 6: Antisystemic Movements and Global Transformation .................. XXX

Appendix ................................................................. XXX

References ................................................................. XXX
List of Tables and Figures

Figure 2.1: Types of “Non-governmental Organizations”

Figure 2.2: Changes in Numbers of Transnational Social Movement Organizations and Inter-Governmental Organizations

Figure 2.3: Percentage of Transnational Social Movement Organizations in the Population by Issue-Focus

Table 2.1 Organizational Structures, Networks, and Survival

Table 3.1: Number of Active Regional Transnational Social Movement Organizations in Four World Regions and Percentage with Ties to Regional Institutions

Table 3.2: Comparison of Regional Institutions on Adoption of Treaties, Mechanisms for Civil Society Participation, and Representative and Constitutive Bodies.

Figure 3.1: The Number of Regional Transnational Social Movement Organizations with Ties to Regional Institutions Relative to the Number with Ties to United Nations Agencies

Figure 3.2: Transnational Labor Unions as a Percentage of all Regional Transnational Social Movement Organizations

Table 4.1: Major UN Global Conferences

Table 4.2: Conference Intervals and Modal Founding Years for Transnational Social Movement Organizations

Figure 4.1: Conference Effects on Organizational Cohorts, by Issue Area

Figure 5.1: Institutional Embeddedness and Specialization among Transnational Social Movement Organizations over Time

Figure 5.2: Percentage of Organizations with High Southern Participation by Level of Specialization and Institutional Embeddedness

Figure 5.3: Characteristics of Transnational Social Movement Organizations by Human Rights Frame

Table 5.1: Characteristics of Transnational Environmental Movement Organizations by Frame and Headquarters Location

Figure 6.1: Systemic Contradictions, Movement Contestation and Global Transformation