

WAVERLY DUCK

Email: Waverly_Duck@UCSB.edu

AREAS OF INTEREST

Urban Sociology, Ethnography and Ethnomethodology, Race and Ethnicity, Culture, Health Disparities, Criminology, Inequality and Social Justice, Theories of the Interaction Order

EDUCATION

2007-2010	Post-Doctoral Associate, Department of Sociology, Yale University.
2005	Ph.D., Sociology, Wayne State University.
2002	M.Sc., Community Health Services, Wayne State University School of Medicine.
1998	B.A., Sociology, Wayne State University.

CURRENT POSITIONS

2022-Present	North Hall Chair Endowed Professor of Sociology, University of California-Santa Barbara
2023-Present	Associate Director of the Center on Black Studies Research, University of California-Santa Barbara

OTHER ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

2010-2022	Associate Professor of Sociology University of Pittsburgh
2020-2021	The Royden B. Davis, S.J. College Chair Distinguished Visiting Professor of Sociology, Georgetown University
2018-2020	Director of Urban Studies and Supervisor of Administration of Justice, University of Pittsburgh
2018-2019	Visiting Distinguished Associate Professor of Sociology, University of Trento, Italy.
2017-2018	Visiting Associate Professor/Postdoctoral Fellow, Center for African American Urban Studies & the Economy, Carnegie Mellon University.
2013-2014	Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology and Waisman Center for Childhood Psychopathology, University of Wisconsin-Madison.
2009-2010	Visiting Postdoctoral Fellow, Wesleyan University Center for Prison Education, Cheshire Correctional Institution.
2007-2010	Associate Director, Urban Ethnography Project, Yale University. 2005-2007 Visiting Scholar, Sociology, University of Pennsylvania.

BOOKS

2023 Rawls, Anne and Waverly Duck. Racisme tacite et fantasme de la blancheur Forthcoming, Le Bord de l'eau Press. French Translation of Tacit Racism with two additional chapters about race in France, Italy Germany and the UK.

2020 Rawls, Anne and Waverly Duck. Tacit Racism. University of Chicago Press.
A Tacit Racism is about how Race in the United States has become deeply embedded in the taken-for-granted structures of day-to-day interaction, producing tacit forms of racism that go on every day – yet remain hidden. The book is also about the high cost of racism and inequality more generally. We identify a set of interrelated phenomena we call “Interaction Orders of Race”, “Fractured Reflections” and “Submissive Civility” that provide novel ways of understanding race in everyday interactions.

*2022 Winner of the Oliver Cromwell Cox Book Award American Sociological Association (ASA) Section on Racial and Ethnic Minorities (SREM)

2022 Winner of the North Central Sociological Association Scholarly Book Award from the North Central Sociological Association

2021 Winner of the Charles Horton Cooley Book Award from the Society for the Study of Symbolic Interaction

 2021 Honorable Mention, Mary Douglas Book Prize, American Sociological Association Culture Section

2020 Rawls, Anne, Kevin Whitehead, and Waverly Duck. Black Lives Matter: Ethnomethodological and Conversation Analytic Studies of Race and Systemic Racism in Everyday Interaction. Taylor and Francis.

This book offers an introduction and collection of articles on topics related to Race, exclusion and category stigma. We open with an overview of the significance of Race and racism in the development of ethnomethodology. In doing so, we consider a much overlooked synergy between Garfinkel and Du Bois – first mentioned twenty-years ago (Rawls 2000) – that treats Garfinkel’s focus on “troubles” as taken-for-granted processes of exclusion, and what they reveal about “normality” as a way of producing something very much like what Du Bois called “double consciousness”. The overview is followed by two sections; we first summarized Garfinkel’s research on Race and racism, and his argument about how categories are used to structure inequality and exclusion; while the second section discusses Sacks’ research on how categorization works in actual interactions, and its relationship to Race and inequality. The book contains eleven articles and chapters. At the end of this introduction, the authors provide a summary of each, and describe their relationship to the main issues we outline in the introduction.

- 2015 Duck, Waverly. No Way Out: Precarious Living in the Shadow of Poverty and Drug Dealing. University of Chicago Press.

No Way Out is an interaction order ethnographic study of the role drug dealing plays in a poor urban neighborhood where it is a principal occupation. Rather than viewing drug dealing, along with graffiti, vacant lots, violence, and decaying housing, as signs of disorder, I argue that the local code of conduct that develops around drug dealing is ordered in ways that shape the character of the community for all residents. In this small urban space, drug dealers are not outsiders; they are long-term residents, well integrated into community life. Their work practices place requirements on behavior in public spaces that impact the whole neighborhood.

- * Selected for Author Meets Critics Session at the Annual Meetings of the Eastern Sociological Society, Seattle, Washington, 2017.
- * Selected for Author Meets Critics Session at the Annual Meetings of the American Sociological Association, Seattle, Washington, 2016.
- * Finalist, C. Wright Mills Book Award, Society for the Study of Social Problems 2016.

REFEREED JOURNAL ARTICLES

- 2023 Duck, Waverly, and Anne Rawls. "Black and Jewish: "Double Consciousness" Inspired a Qualitative Interactional Approach that Centers Race, Marginality, and Justice." Qualitative Sociology (2023): 1-36.
- 2022 Rawls, Anne and Waverly Duck. "Tacit Racism is Institutionalized in Interaction in the US: What about Elsewhere? Special Issue of Zeitschrift für Kulturwissenschaften (Martin Zillinger ed.) Special Issue of Zeitschrift für Kulturwissenschaften (Martin Zillinger ed.)
- 2022 Rawls, Anne and Waverly Duck. "Racisme tacite et fantasme de la blancheur." Marcel Mauss Review, no 59: 39-57.
- 2021 Jones-Brown, Delores, Kenethia McIntosh Fuller, Paul Reck, and Waverly Duck. "Why we should stop using the term "Black-on-Black crime": an analysis across disciplines." Journal of Ethnicity in Criminal Justice no. 3-4: 311-338.
- 2020 Duck, Waverly and Anne Rawls. "How Social Expectations are Being Reconfigured in the Age of Covid-19.: Implications for Uncertainty and Social Solidarity." Etnografia e Ricerca Qualitativa.

- 2018 Rawls, Anne, Waverly Duck, and Jason Turowetz. "Problems Establishing Identity/Residency in a City Neighborhood during a Black/White Police-citizen Encounter: Reprising Du Bois' Conception of Submission as Submissive Civility." City and Community 17(4): 1015-1015.
- 2017 Duck, Waverly. "The Complex Dynamics of Trust and Legitimacy: Understanding Interactions between the Police and Poor Black Neighborhood Residents." The ANNALS of the American Academy of Political and Social Science 673(1): 132-149.
- 2017 Rawls, Anne and Waverly Duck. "Fractured Reflections of High Status Black Male Presentations of Self: Non-Recognition of Identity as a Barrier to Exercising Legitimate Authority." Sociological Focus 50(1): 36-51.
- *2018 Best Article of the Year Award from the North Central Sociological Association.
- 2016 Zuberi, Anita, Waverly Duck, Robert Graddeck, and Richard Hopkinson. "Neighborhoods, Race, and Health: Assessing the Relationship between Health Disparities and Neighborhood Distress in the City of Pittsburgh." Journal of Urban Affairs 3(4): 546-563.
- 2016 Duck, Waverly. "Becoming a Neighborhood Drug Dealer: Local Interaction Orders and Criminal Careers." Critical Sociology 42(7-8): 1069-1085.
- 2012 Duck, Waverly. "Precarious Living: Getting by on Even Less." The American Academy of Political and Social Science 642(1): 124-138.
- 2012 Duck, Waverly and Anne Rawls. "Interaction Orders of Drug Dealing Spaces: Local Orders of Sensemaking in a Poor Black American Place." Crime, Law and Social Change 57(1): 33-75.
- 2010 Ly, Carolyn* and Waverly Duck. "The West Branch, More Than a Library: Understanding a Neighborhood Library's Local Relevance." Perspectives on Urban Education 7(10): 22-30.
- 2009 Duck, Waverly. "'Senseless' Violence: The Sense to be Made of Murder." Ethnography 10(4): 417-434.
- 2009 Duck, Waverly. "Black Male Sexual Politics: Avoidance of HIV/AIDS Testing as a Masculine Health Practice." Journal of African American Studies 13(3): 283-306.

* Findings reported in USA Today and United Press International.

GRANTS

- 2022 Co-Investigator. Impacts of Discriminatory Mortgage Lending Practices on Obesity. (2022-2026) National Institute of Health, with Andrea Richardson, Kirsten Beyer, James Shikany, Penny Gordon-Larsen Kiarri Kershaw, Tamara Dubowitz and Feifei Ye ($3,729,135).
- 2021 Co-Investigator. Charting the “Reasonable Officer”: A Partnership with Ontario’s Special Investigations Unit to Understand Oversight in Police Use of Force Cases. Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada Award ($196,116 CDN).
- 2018 University of Pittsburgh, School of Social Work, Pilot Award. $10,000.
- 2017 “From Barely Making It to? Effects of Raising Wages Among Low-Wage Workers.” University Pittsburgh College of Arts and Sciences Social Science Initiative Grant. $50,000.
- 2014 Supplemental attachment to National Science Foundation project #1257065, “A Sociology of Testing, Diagnosis, and Autism Spectrum Disorder.” Prof. Doug Maynard, P.I., to support my research on the project for one year.

SELECTED HONORS AND AWARDS

- 2022 Elected Member of the Sociological Research Association
- 2022 Winner of the Oliver Cromwell Cox Book Award American Sociological Association (ASA) Section on Racial and Ethnic Minorities (SREM) for Tacit Racism
- 2022 Winner of the North Central Sociological Association Scholarly Book Award from the North Central Sociological Association for Tacit Racism
- 2021 Winner of the Charles Horton Cooley Book Award from the Society for the Study of Symbolic Interaction for Tacit Racism.
- 2021 Honorable Mention, Mary Douglas Prize, American Sociological Association Culture Section, for Tacit Racism.
- 2021 Rosa Parks Foundation Alumnus of the Year for Social Justice Research, Rosa Parks Foundation, Detroit, Michigan.
- 2021 Provost Teaching Award for my contribution to the University of Pittsburgh Inaugural Course on Anti-Black Racism: History, Ideology, and Resistance.
- 2018 Winner of the North Central Sociological Association Best Article Award for “Fractured Reflections.”