

Social Science, Social Policy, and the Law

Patricia Ewick, Robert A. Kagan, Austin Sarat, EDITORS

---

Dedication

To Stanton Wheeler, teacher, scholar, friend, in honor of his remarkable contribution to the field of law and social science.

Contents

|                 |   |     |
|-----------------|---|-----|
| Contributors    |   | ix  |
| Acknowledgments |   | xi  |
| Introduction    | Legacies of Legal Realism: Social Science,Social Policy, and the LawPatricia Ewick, Robert A. Kagan, and Austin Sarat | 1   |
| PART I          | HISTORICAL AND STRUCTURAL ANALYSESOF LAW  | 39  |
| Chapter 1       | Privatization and Punishment: Lessonsfrom HistoryMalcolm M. Feeley  | 41  |
| Chapter 2       | On Stage: Some Historical NotesAbout Criminal JusticeLawrence M. Friedman   | 68  |
| Chapter 3       | Beyond the Law of Evidence: Facts andInequality in Criminal DefenseKenneth Mann                                       | 101 |
| PART II         | BARRIERS TO INFLUENCE   | 137 |
| Chapter 4       | A Bad Press on Bad Lawyers: The Media SeesResearch, Research Sees the MediaDeborah L. Rhode                           | 139 |
| Chapter 5       | Maps, Gaps, Sociolegal Scholarship, andthe Tort Reform DebateNeil Vidmar  | 170 |
| Chapter 6       | Hunting for Bias: Notes on the Evolution ofStrategies for Documenting InvidiousDiscriminationJack Katz            | 210 |
| Chapter 7       | Good for What Purpose? Social Science,Race, and Proportionality Review in New JerseyDavid Weisburd                    | 258 |
| PART III        | LAW AND THE REORDERING OFSOCIAL RELATIONS   | 289 |

|           |   |     |
|-----------|---|-----|
| Chapter 8 | Boundary Work: Levels of Analysis, theMacro-Micro Link, and the Social Controlof OrganizationsDiane Vaughan | 291 |
| Chapter 9 | When You Can't Just Say "No": ControllingLawyers' Conflicts of InterestSusan P. Shapiro                         | 322 |
| Index     |   | 377 |

Contributors

PATRICIA EWICK is associate professor of sociology and associate dean at Clark University.

ROBERT A. KAGAN is professor of political science and director of the Center for Law and Society at the University of California at Berkeley.

AUSTIN SARAT is William Nelson Cromwell Professor of Jurisprudence and Political Science at Amherst College and president of the Law and Society Association.

MALCOLM M. FEELEY is Claire Sanders Clements Professor of Law at the University of California at Berkeley.

LAWRENCE M. FRIEDMAN is Marion Rice Kirkwood Professor of Law at Stanford University.

JACK KATZ is professor of sociology at the University of California at Los Angeles.

KENNETH MANN is associate professor of law at Tel-Aviv University and chief public defender for the State of Israel.

DEBORAH L. RHODE is Ernest W. McFarland Professor of Law at Stanford University.

SUSAN P. SHAPIRO is senior research fellow at the American Bar Foundation.

DIANE VAUGHAN is professor of sociology at Boston College.

NEIL VIDMAR is Russell M. Robinson II Professor of Law and professor of psychology at Duke University.

DAVID WEISBURD is director of the Institute of Criminology at Hebrew University Law School and senior research scientist at the Police Foundation.

Acknowledgments

We are grateful for financial support from the Russell Sage Foundation and Yale Law School as well as for administrative support provided by Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence, and Social Thought. We also want to thank the friends, colleagues, former students, and admirers of Stan Wheeler who have contributed to this volume and to the many people who enthusiastically participated in the symposium at which these essays were first presented. This book is but one small tribute to Stan's extraordinary career and to the virtues of generosity and excellence, which have been combined so powerfully in Stan Wheeler the person. We seek to recognize his deep and selfless investment in a generation of scholars who he did so much to nurture and his superb example of what it means to be a scholar. We are all deeply in his debt.