

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xi
FOREWORD	xv
PREFACE	xxi
INTRODUCTION	xxvii

CHAPTER 1

The Lower Courts: Process and Punishment	3
Introduction	3
Some Explanations for the Operations of Lower Courts	5
Additional Factors Affecting the Administration of Justice	14
The Court as an Open System	15
Substantive Justice and the Adjudicative Ideal	21
Decision-making Costs: Two Models and an Alternative	25
Conclusion	33

CHAPTER 2

Setting and Context	35
Introduction	35
The City	35
The Business of the Court	38
The Police	43
The Two-Tiered System of Courts	47
The Emergence of the Court of Common Pleas	48
Power, Patronage, and Position	53
Conclusion: The Court and Its Environment	57

CONTENTS

CHAPTER 3

Judges, Prosecutors, and Defense Attorneys	62
Introduction	62
Judges	63
Prosecutors	70
Defense Attorneys	76
Private Representation	77
Public Defense Services	81
Comparing Types of Defense Attorneys	90

CHAPTER 4

Supportive Figures	94
Introduction	94
Pretrial Release Specialists	96
Bail Bondsmen	96
Bail Commissioners	108
Pretrial Service Representatives	111
Pretrial Diversion Program	112
Family Relations Officer	113
Drug Treatment Representatives	114
Auxiliary Personnel	115
Police Liaison Officer and Attending Officer	115
Clerks and Stenographers	117
Secretaries, Aides, and Investigators	119
Bailiffs and Sheriffs	120
Conclusion	122

CHAPTER 5

Outcomes: Adjudication and Sentencing	123
Introduction	123
The Variables	125
Adjudication Alternatives	127
Determinants of Adjudication	130
Additional Analysis	135
Conclusion	136
Sentencing Alternatives	136

Determinants of Sentence Severity	139
Additional Analysis	145
Conclusion	146
Reflections on a Quantitative Approach	147

CHAPTER 6

The Process of Adjudication and Sentencing	154
Introduction	154
Establishing the Worth of a Case	158
The Inherent Ambiguity of the Process	167
Prosecutor–Defense Attorney Relationships	177
Defendants Without Attorneys	181
Plea Bargaining	185
The Symbolic Importance of Plea Bargaining	189
Negotiation as a Process of Exchange	192
Trials and Sentences	195
Summary	197

CHAPTER 7

The Process Is the Punishment	199
Introduction	199
Pretrial Release: An Overview	201
Pretrial Release: Process	209
Securing an Attorney	216
Continuances	222
Failure to Appear	224
Pretrial Diversion	232
The Imbalance Ratio	235
Conclusion: The Aggregated Effects of the Pretrial Process	241

CHAPTER 8

The Myth of Heavy Caseloads: An Exploration and Rejection of an Alternative Explanation	244
--	-----

CONTENTS

Introduction: The Caseload Hypotheses	244
Selecting a Comparison Court	247
The Caseload Hypotheses Explored	249
Trials and Motions	251
Plea Bargains	252
Sentences	254
Pretrial Processing	255
Courtroom Observations	258
Historical Review	262
Why Caseload Is Considered So Important	267
The Implications of Due Process	267
The Making of a Social Problem	268
Nonreactive "Causes"	269
Alternative Explanations	270
The Organization of the Court's Business	270
Substantive Justice and Mutual Advantages	272
The Impact of Professionalism	274
Conclusion: The Process as Punishment	276

CHAPTER 9

The Criminal Process and the Adjudicative Ideal	278
Introduction	278
The Criminal Court System and the Adjudicative Ideal	280
Substantive Justice and the Adjudicative Ideal	283
Pretrial Costs and the Adjudicative Ideal	290
A Concluding Note on Reform	292
NOTES	299
INDEX	323